KROTOSZYN MUNICIPALITY

KROTOSZYN CITY PLAN

Krotoszyn is located in the southern part of Greater Poland province, near the border with the province of Lower Silesia, and half way between Poznan and Wroclaw. The total area of the municipality is 259 square kilometres, of which 23 is the town alone. The commune is inhabited by 41 thousand people, of whom 30 thousand live in the town.

Krotoszyn was founded in 1415 by Wierzbęta, who was from a small scale noble family named Łodzia Krotoski, under the privilege given by King Władysław Jagiełło. The town was established under the Magdeburg Law and was primarily located in today's downtown location. By the end of the First Republic of Poland, Krotoszyn was a property of Polish gentry and aristocratic families. The town was developed significantly in the 16th century and became a major centre for trade and crafts, especially weaving and brewing. In 1819 the Prussian government, in exchange for the postal monopoly in the Rhineland and Westphalia, gave Krotoszyn's rights to Prince Charles von Thurn und Taxis.

After the liberation from German occupation - 23 January 1945, Krotoszyn remained a seat of district and urban-municipal authorities. Many factories arose on the outskirts of the town (a machine factory ,a brewery, a sawmill, an abattoir and a distillery) and new streets, schools and government buildings were constructed. Most of the tenement buildings around the town square were also renovated.

Nowadays the several big and about 30 medium-sized companies have offices in Krotoszyn. They represent metal construction, food, clothing, pharmaceutical and chemical industry, wooden and plastic packaging.

The municipality is dominated by following types of industry:

- machinery - production of engine parts, provides technologically innovative solutions for automotive and industrial applications in the areas of engine systems and components (MAHLE Polska Ltd. - belonging to MAHLE GmbH - one of the 30 largest automotive suppliers worldwide, employing in Krotoszyn approximately 3.100 people); steel structures in particular mechanical equipment for processing and transporting coal and other minerals (FUGOR Ltd. Plant For Production of Mining Equipment),
- light - clothing production – women's wear manufacturer (TEOMINA S.A.),

Credit Warranty Fund in Gostyn which, bound by the agreement with the commune of Krotoszyn, grants bank warranties to the local entrepreneurs.

The municipality offers real estate investment opportunities for electronic, light and accommodation industry; constructions and agro-food production; transport, trade and services. Well developed technical infrastructure (communication, roads, sewerage, gas supply, sewage treatment plant) create conditions for development and economic growth.
